How far is heaven?

It’s not very far.

In temples of God

It’s right where we are.

“Our need to be in the temple on a regular basis has never been greater...If you have reasonable access to a temple, I urge you to find a way to make an appointment regularly with the Lord—to be in His holy house— then keep that appointment with exactness and with joy. I promise you that the Lord will bring the miracles He knows you need as you make sacrifices to serve and worship in His temples.”President Nelson

“Many parents, in and out of the church, are concerned about protection against a cascading avalanche of wickedness which threatens to engulf the world...There is power associated with ordinances of heaven— even the power of godliness—which can and will thwart the forces of evil if we will but be worthy of those sacred covenants made in the temple of the Lord.... Our families will be protected, our children will be safeguarded as we live the gospel, visit the temple, and live close to the Lord.” President Ezra T. Benson

(Atlanta Georgia Temple Cornerstone Laying, 1 June 1983.)

“Temples are the greatest university of learning known to man, giving us knowledge and wisdom about the creation of the world. Washings and anointings tell us who we are. Endowment instructions give guidance as to how we should conduct our lives here in mortality.

Every one of us was born for the hour and time in which we live. How important it is, then, that we understand the purpose of our lives, so that the things we are working on and spending time on are the things that matter most.”
